Covid-19 Guidance to Visitors

We are looking forward to welcoming you to Worthing Music and Arts Festival in 2022

Although there are no longer legal Covid restrictions on performing arts activities or how many people can now gather, WMAAF would like to make sure everyone who visits us feels safe.

There are some simple steps we are going to ask you to take to reduce the risk of any possible Covid transmission when you are visiting or performing at WMAAF

- 1 Check for COVID symptoms and health conditions before you leave home. - All competitors, parents, officials, volunteers and audiences should check you have no symptoms, however mild before attending

- 2 We would suggest you have a negative lateral flow test before you visit WMAAF – please carry this out at the start of the day and before you attend any venues.

- 3 We would like to encourage you to wear a face covering (unless medical exemptions apply). Face coverings of course can be removed for those who are performing.

- 4 Please use the hand sanitizers when you enter the venues
